A BOAT-BACE AT CHERBOURG—AN AMERICAN BOAT THE

In Wilker's Spirit of the Times there is a description of a boatrace at Oberbourg, in which 15 French men-of-war's boats and one American took part. The American was the smallest of the lot, and pulled but 12 oars to the Frenchmen's 16—the favorites at starting being a barge bolonging to the Flandre (ironclad) and a cutter belonging to Prince Napoleon's yacht. Lieut.

J. Harris, jr., of the United States Navy, who steered the winner and writes the account of the race, does not convey a very slewated impression of the French code of honer as applied, to boat-racing. First, the Finantre's barge tried hard to foul him, and then a couple of the beaten beats out off a corner and endeavored to mislead him out of the course; but in both these attempts they falled, and the American boat came in an easy winner—a short ship's length ahead of the lessling French boat, which belonged to the Mageuta. The boats of the Finandre and of Prince Napoleon's yacht were "nowhere."

SIMEON B. CHITTENDEN.

It must be obvious to all that we need for our National Representa-tive at this critical period, A Man of True, Tried, Consistent Prion; ple, in whose ability, loyalty and therough sympathy with the friends of Liberty and Usion we may implicitly comide. Mr. Chittenden is a self-made mun, and has wom his position by his own energy and ability. He has great intelligence and aptitude for own energy and ability. He has great intelligence and aptitude for public affairs. He has, during a residence of nearly a quarter of a century among us, been a constant, earnest and most liberal supporter of the interests of our City and of its public and charitable institutions. His donations to public and private charities have been munificent and unbounded. He is a true patriot. He labored unceasingly for the overtition of the Rebeillom, giving largely of his means for the support of the army and the Government, and for the relief of our soldiers and saltors and their families. He was an earnest and liberal supporter of the Saltiers and Charitan Commissions. The filld Congressional District embraces one of the largest Com mercial Districts in this country, and it is important that it should be represented by a commercial man. In Mr. CHITTENDEN we have a gentleman of the largest commercial experience, whose relations with commerce and the commercial experience, whose relations will commerce and the commercial world are intimate and extensive. We command him to your support, because of his eminent times for this position, his loyalty, his patriotism, and his knowledge of public stairs, and of it somewheat of the country. Having such a candidate of whom we may to say all this and much more, whom we can support without districts as to his tidelity to the principles we love, or as to his ability and courage to defend and maintain them, let us be fully aroused to the duty of securing to him the vote of every elector in the district who holds to these principles.

To the Electors of the Xith Assembly District.

At the solicitation of a large number of influential and particle distance of this District who are dissatisfied with the character of the Assembly numberion and the influences which brought them about, I have consented to the use of my name for that position.

At the time of the formation of the new Assembly Districts, it was cherged that the Supervisors shaped them with an especial view to their own schemes; and that, in the Xith District, it was cleared that the Supervisors shaped them with an especial view to their own schemes; and that, in the Xith District, it was cleared that the Supervisors shaped them with an especial view to their own schemes; and that, in the Xith District, it was to elect to the Assembly Mr. John V. Gridley, who holds the locardive office of Clerk of one of our District Courts, which he has no infention of resigning, and is the especial triend and protege of Supervisor William R. Hetwurt; and there for some continuous and Medison wave. to Fortilethest, thomac to Sixthave, and Thirty-second-st. Here it plunges down into Ninthave,, and at Tweaty-sixthat, comes up again to Sixthave, and there to Fourteenth-with which was attached to the Platrict for the purpose of making him eligible. It is for the electors of the Xith District to say if this scheme shall proper. If these who think it should not have sufficient confidence in my shilty and integrity to give me their voies, I shall endeavor to prove withly that considence.

All who know me know that I am a. Republicen, and. upon party issues will voice with that party; but I I think men of all parties will agree that the good government of the city is at pre and of viola importance.

To the Editor of The Heraid.

Size My attention has been called to an editorial article in The Heraid of this day, in which it is stated that I have been indiced for "burglary and other offenses."

It is a day not only to myself, but to the people of the Vth Congressional District, for whose support I am a candidate, that I should stars the facts. When I was a bey, but if yours of age, I and a few thiends were engaged in an altercation with a party of young men, and in that altercation there was a door of a house kicked open. It was charged that I was one of those who kicked open the door and struck one of the opposing party. An addistir was made by one of the men engaged in the quarret that I had broken open the door and struck in the opposing party an addistir was made by one of the men engaged in the quarret that I had broken open the door and struck ment for burglary was never tried.
